Nicola Capuzzo · Friday, February 4th, 2022

It is a DOM 133 the first sale of the year for Baglietto, who secures hull no. 10246, the fifth order in the line. The sale of this New Construction DOM 133 designed by Stefano Vafiadis was achieved thanks to the support of Robert Lama of Miami International Yacht Sales working strictly in cooperation with the Baglietto Americas Office in Fort Lauderdale. The delivery of this yacht is expected in 2024.

“This bears witness to the increasingly strong market presence in the Americas of Baglietto’s DOM line – says Baglietto CEO Diego Michele Deprati. – This line was already largely appreciated both in Europe and in the Middle East thanks to the harmonious combination of design, technology, generous spaces and versatility – all features that have made this yacht widely praised and coveted by a large and varied clientele having different requirements and tastes. A line that is bound to be further improved in the future, while preserving its winning essential qualities”.
